

Dear Orange class,

It was lovely to speak to so many of you again last week. Hearing your voices and hearing about what you have been doing really made me smile. I especially loved hearing about the books you have loved to read, it sounds like you are all making such great progress with your reading.

I have been enjoying the weather over the half term, I've been re-potting lots of my plants that were growing too big for their pots. Do you remember the picture of the chili plant I planted at the beginning of lockdown – here you can see how much bigger it is getting. I also got to go to my friend's allotment last week and see the honey bees they are keeping, there were thousands of them buzzing around! But don't worry, I didn't get stung!

Also, another week another puzzle done! This one is a picture of lots of old London underground adverts and was really fun to do. I also baked a fun rainbow cake last week, it was lemon and blueberry flavour and was delicious!

I really hope to see some of you soon, it will be so nice to be back in school again for a few weeks even though it won't be quite the same as before. I know some of you might not be returning but don't worry, I think we will all do something special like a picnic in the park in the summer to make sure we have a proper goodbye!

I am very proud of you all Orange class for being so good during this strange time and adapting to doing your school work from home. Remember it is not forever and you will all be back together in school again before too long.

Lots of love,
